

AMENDMENTS TO THE CLAIMS

The Examiner has rejected the present invention claims based upon Moss alone, Dion-Bildstein alone, and each in combination with several other prior art inventions. The applicant believes her invention is different and has amended her claims in a way that she believes now distinguishes her invention from Moss, Dion-Bildstein, and the other prior art. A complete listing of all claims follows, with added language underlined and deleted language having strike-through markings. The applicant also believes that her changes to the claims have been made without adding new matter.
